Fiscal Analysis

- ASSUMPTIONS:
1. This bill allows local governments such as county, city, school districts and community colleges to enter into energy performance contracts that conserve energy for buildings and vehicles that they operate. The State Building Energy Conservation Program is not available to these local governments. Costs of the contract are the responsibility of the local government, therefore there is no fiscal impact.

Office of Public Instruction (OPI)

2. HB 212 authorizes school districts to enter into energy performance contracts for at least 3 years and up to 20 years. The requirements that a school district solicit bids when the contract exceeds $25,000 and that the contract be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder do not apply for an investment grade energy audit or an energy performance contract.

3. HB 212 has no fiscal impact on the OPI or state support for schools.
